

Our Philosophy

At the The Children's Space, little ones are loved and valued. Children grow spiritually and learn to cooperate, problem solve, be creative, and to respect others and their differences. TCS at St. Luke's promotes the growth of the total individual by helping each child develop socially, cognitively, physically, and emotionally. Our child-centered program includes both teacher-directed and self-selected activities, quiet and active experiences, and the recognition that learning occurs in both formal and informal ways. Because young children learn best through active participation, teachers provide them with many "hands-on" activities. The staff at TCS works as a team to meet children's needs, with support from the church and its members, the TCS board, parents, and the community.
